Comments.

- (1) [REDACTED]
- (2) Nikolayov (fnu) and Dyvenkin (fnu) are not known in the Eberswalde-Eisen-spaltorei area. Seifort is the name of the factory where the unit is quartered.
- (3) The shipment indicates Finow airfield was assigned AAA protection at the end of May. AAA units were assigned to 15 other airfields in Eastern Germany after April 1952. However, from the information in the present report it cannot be determined whether an AAA battalion of one of the two AAA regiments of the unidentified AAA Div of the Fourth Gds Peck Army in Fuerstenwalde was transferred or whether the shipment consisted of equipment from one of the ordnance depots in the Fuerstenwalde area.
- (4) A large percentage of the shipments was previously reported. However, [REDACTED] the unloading of only 144 cars and the loading of only 23 cars during a daily observation period of about 12 hours, and this is considered too low for military supply traffic and, therefore, it is believed that the report covers only part of the shipments. The number of cars loaded and unloaded for a 24-hour period would amount to about 350 carloads whereas 2,500 carloads were handled during the preceding month.
